Chemical Facility Fire, Hazardous Spill Report 19-3516, Santa Clara, Santa Clara County \(New/Final\)

On 06/01/19 at 1700 hours, the California State Warning Center's (CSWC) social media monitoring tools indicated that there was a fire at a chemical facility in Santa Clara, Santa Clara County. The fire produced a large amount of grey and black smoke in the sky.

Per Cal OES Fire Duty Officer:

- Per Santa Clara Fire Dispatch the tank was shut off and fire is out.
- Incident has been mitigated.
- During the transfer of product involving a tractor trailer truck and a pressurized Hydrogen storage tank, a release and subsequent explosion occurred resulting in fire.
- The business and surrounding facilities were evacuated.
- The incident occurred at the Air Products facility near Hwy 101 and Montague Expressway in the City of Santa Clara.
- The fire was quickly contained to multiple tractor trailer vehicles and no additional release occurred from the Hydrogen tank.
- The crews used Thermal Imaging Cameras to ensure that the product was contained.
- The truck driver was evaluated but not transported to any facility.
- Fire crews evacuated an approximate two block area and an animal shelter was sheltered in place.
- Evacuations were lifted early on in the incident.
- Notifications were made per SOP.

Cal OES SOUTHERN REGION

- Nothing significant to report.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

- Afternoon and evening thunderstorms are possible across the mountains of eastern Mendocino and Trinity County early this evening and once again Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

- Flash flooding possible for the mountains and the Antelope, Cuyama, and San Luis Obispo County Valleys through this evening.
  - Rain rates over 1" per hour possible near showers and thunderstorms
  - Potential Impacts: Roadway closures due to flash flooding and rapid rise of small streams and creeks.

WEATHER KEY POINTS

06/02/19 - 06/08/19

Sunday

- A chance of showers and thunderstorms will continue in the afternoon and evening, mainly over the Sierra and adjacent foothills, as well as the mountains and some inland valleys across Southern Region.
  - Locally heavy rainfall is possible with any thunderstorm that passes over an area.
  - Since winds above the surface will be quite light across Southern Region, any showers and thunderstorms that form will be slow moving, and could linger in any one location for an extended period of time.
    - This will lead to a threat of flash flooding Sunday afternoon and evening across the mountains of Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties, the Antelope Valley, the Cuyama Valley, and the mountains of Los Angeles County (excluding the Santa Monica Range).
  - Hail and strong, gusty winds may also be possible with isolated storms across Inland Region

Monday-Wednesday

- Heat-related impacts are possible across the Sacramento Valley starting Monday, then also spreading south into the San Joaquin Valley Tuesday and Wednesday
  - Moderate Heat Risk expected for those who are sensitive to heat, especially those without effective cooling and/or adequate hydration
- Isolated showers and thunderstorms continue to be possible, primarily over the Sierra, but in general a drying trend is expected across the state

Thursday-Saturday

- A cooling trend is expected across the state for Thursday-Friday, significantly reducing heat-related impacts
- Although isolated showers cannot be ruled out, dry conditions are expected across much of the state for the latter half of the week
